County Farms Rate Low In Soil Organic Matter

Lancaster county farmers would do well to consider more extensive use of fibrous rooted cover crops to try to build up the organic matter content of their soil, visitors at the first Lancaster County Soil Conservation Field Day were told Wednesday.

Speaking to over 100 farmers and others interested in conservation of natural resources, County Agent M. M. Smith said soil tests from county farms show that the Garden Spot farms rank lower in organic matter content than any other county in the state.

"There are several reasons for this," Smith said. He explained that the intensive type of farming we do here tends to help the plant residues and manures rot up and disappear quicker than they would in areas where less intensive types of farming were carried on.

Working the soil frequently and keeping the soil open for row crops a large portion of the time also helps to destroy some of the humus.

Smith recommended the use of fibrous rooted cover crops along with more grassland farming to help the soil regain some of the needed organic matter content. A good crop of a plant like Field Brome will add a lot more humus than a heavy show as he swept four of the eight breed championships and one reserve championship in his march on the Grand Championship of the Lebanon-Lancaster County 4-

Boyd took his championship with a trim Duroc Jersey barrow after collecting blue ribbons with his entries in the Berkshire, Hampshire and Landrace judging. He collected reserve spot in the Poland China breed. His only entry in the Spotted Poland China classes won first in the heavyweight class while his other entry in the Poland China class finished in second place in the heavyweight class behind that breed champion.

Reserve champion of the show went to the crossbred entry of Donald Trimble, of Quarryville R1. Trimble, long an active member of the dairy and corn clubs, had

New Holland Fair To Offer Prizes For Crop Show

President of the New Holland Farmers' Fair Board, S. O. Zimmerman, has just announced that the 1960 New Holland Farmer's Fair will feature a new event when it opens on September 28th and continues through October 1. The event, a hay-corn-tobacco show, should stimulate interest in the agricultural phase of the Fair which has been lagging in recent years. Robert D. Herr, agricultural instructor at Garden Spot

County Future Farmer Wins Highest Degree

A 21 year old Lancaster R7 farmer has been selected to receive the highest award of the national association of Future Farmers of America.

J. Robert Book, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Book, will be awarded the golden key of the American Farmer degree at the National convention of the FFA in Kansas on October 12.

Busily engaged in harvesting his 35 acres of tobacco, Book hopes to have his farm work "caught up" so that he can take a week off to journey to the Missouri city to accept the degree.

In addition to the tobacco, Book, in partnership with Elvin Penfer, Willow Street

R2, this year has 15 acres of peas, 22 acres of squash, 25 acres of barley, 35 acres of wheat and approximately 100 acres of corn which will be

Farm Show Milk Deadline Nears

Harrisburg — State Farm Show Director John B. McCool today reminded Pennsylvania dairy farmers and milk dealers that requests to enter the 1961 milk show at the Farm Show must be made by September 1.

McCool said that entries are running ahead of last year, with the deadline less than a week away.

Milk competition is different from other competitive events at the Farm Show.

FROM WHERE WE STAND - Keep Your Sunny Side Up

Mrs America believes that a good breakfast should include at least one egg, preferably two.

In an independent survey of American housewives, researchers found that most home makers believe that eggs should go into the making of every "good" breakfast Mothers said they liked for their children to start the day with at least one egg for breakfast

The belief, in words at least, seems to be general that eggs are a healthful, nutritious food.

Cooks will maintain that eggs are one of the most versatile ingredients of their stock in trade.

Eggs are one of the easiest foods to prepare in many ways. Almost anyone, even Dad, can cook eggs which will taste good and make an attractive dish.

Why then, with all this in their favor, have eggs been given less and less space on the tables of America?

We believe one of the reasons for the decline in the per capita consumption of this wholesome food is the number of conflicting articles which have appeared in medical journals from time to time.

Cholesterol was — and in some quarters still is — accused of being an important factor in causing heart disease.

Because some patients seriously ill with heart disease have been put on a diet excluding eggs, some people have come up with the idea that "eggs are bad for you".

Many doctors have stated that the concept of any disease arising from a single cause is obsolete and misleading. Heart disease, as well as most other diseases, is probably caused by many factors. No conclusive evidence has ever been produced to show that eggs are even one of the causes of heart disease.

It is true that eggs do contain an appreciable amount of cholesterol, but most evidence indicates that the amount of cholesterol in the food is not related to the amount of cholesterol circulating in the blood stream.

Though the problem of what really causes heart disease may not be settled for years, the fact that egg yolk contains cholesterol has influenced many doctors not only to stop eating eggs themselves but also advise their patients to eat less of them.

On the other side of the ledger a report from the New York Medical College shows that egg yolk has been found to have a remarkably strong action against rheumatic fever in children.

Dr. Alvin F. Coburn, Associate Professor of Pediatrics at the college found that supplementation of rheumatic children's diets with egg yolk or certain fractions thereof is followed by a decreased rheumatic susceptibility, and a fraction of the egg yolk in extremely small amounts has high anti-allergic activity in laboratory animals.

Dr. Coburn makes no claims for the curative power of egg yolks in rheumatic fever cases, but does maintain that his experiments show fewer cases of recurring reumatic symptoms when victims are put on a diet containing a substantial amount of eggs or egg yolk.

Recently the Poultry and Egg National Board has instituted a campaign to help inform men in the medical profession of the true nature of eggs in the diet.

We believe this is a worthy project and hope it will have the backing and cooperation of farmers in all phases of agriculture. We believe it is the duty of the farmer to help dispell false rumors about the harmful effects of the wholesome products of American Agriculture.

One way farmers can cast their vote of confidence in the value of eggs is to start every day with a breakfast of two. Boiled, fried, poached, scrambled or in French Toast, eggs are good and good for you.

At least that's how it looks from where we stand.

Armed Alliances

Lesson for August 28, 1960

WE ALL LIVE inside many circles. The smallest of these is the one your belt goes around. It is just the circle around the immediate you, which you can never escape because you live inside it. It goes where you go. Then there is the larger circle passing around your family. You can run away from that, but you would wish you hadn't. Beyond are larger circles, big enough to take in the neighborhood, the school, the church, the county, the nation . . . and so, finally, the great circle around the world, the circle of the sky, under which are all the nations of the world.

Dr. Foreman

The Circle of Religion

Where, in that arrangement, is the Circle of Religion? It is not the same thing as the circle of the church, for there can be religion outside of church; otherwise we would be irreligious people every time we walked out of the church building. The fact is, religion—the Christian religion in particular—is concerned with all those circles and all the people inside them, and all that makes their lives good or bad, joyous or sorrowful. Any religion that can be fenced in is a mighty poor sort. Christianity is concerned with everything human. Therefore Christianity cannot, without shame, turn its face away and mutter "None of my business" when anything is going on that affects human lives.

One circle in particular is often thought to be "out of bounds" for religion; that is to say, the preacher should never mention it in a sermon, and the people need not look to the Bible for any light on the subject. This is the circle of International Affairs. This is the circle that takes in diplomacy, and treaties, and war and peace. If by the Bible we must try what God's will is in such For the prophets of old on the foreign policy of tions, and made no apology

In those far-off days, the average man old enough taxes and be drafted in a good deal of stock in alliances. Line up with number of nations, arm the self if they are not armed, your gang of nations is big stronger than any other nations between the Nile Euphrates River, and you worrying about your future; you've got it made thought (and it sounds far these cold-and-hot war and war days) but it was not true prophets did not ur and better alliances Inde alliances would prove to ally dangerous. Isaiah pol that alliances of armed na often short-lived, they sand, allies of one genera become enemies of the na nation drags down other fall. To put it another way ity is not finally in force is not in more force Real is not in decisions of the h mand, not in the schemes of staff.

What General Trudeau Says

Don't think the lines y just read are clear out with reality! The followi statement by General Tru the time he was placed in of the U. S. Army's Min velopment Program:

"Despite the extreme tance of exploring Space furthestmost limits, and of up satellites that can beg our exploring, even more tant is this 20th Century lunge to believing men and —a challenge for us to lay prayers, which can and higher and farther than sat rocket or space ship o reach, namely to the waiti of our Creator, if we ever to solve these problems at peace of our world, whi clearly does not seem abli complish on his own"

In other words, this Christian military leader know-how enough to be p charge of a vitally import tional military project, kn most important thing TRUST IN GOD!

THIS WEEK —In Washington With Clinton Davidson Cold War Defeat?

Forty years ago a close friend of mine went to Japan as a missionary. With the exception of the World War II years, he has been there since 1920.

After the Tokyo riots forced the cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit to Japan, I wrote him asking that he give me his personal appraisal of the situation there.

The friend is Logan J. Fox, President of the Ibaraki Christian College in the Prefecture of Ibaraki. He has given me permission to quote from his reply.

"Perhaps in no other Far Eastern nation has America had a more favorable opportunity for winning the battle for men's mind than that afforded in Japan since 1945. Japan is basically conservative; a moderate nationalism has been the dominant political force during the past decade. The economy has been sound and prosperous. Battle Not Won

Following the end of the war an unbelievably pro-American feeling swept the nation. It is clear, however that our country (America) has not won the ideological battle. We have not yet lost it, either, but may be losing it. "Communism has had an uphill battle in Japan, but, with the odds against it, it has succeeded in convincing a large percentage of the Japanese people (especially students and intellectuals) that:

1. Communism favors peace while the United States States recklessly pursues a policy heedless of whether it will lead to war or not.
2. Communism is in favor of outlawing nuclear weapons while the United States is not.
3. Communism wants to see social change, while the U. S. desires the status quo.
4. Communism will better the lot of the laboring man, while the U. S. is interested in seeing Japanese big business prosper.
5. Communism will help the emerging small nations while the U. S. will back the reactionary powers.

"6. Communism is for the East, while the U. S. is for the West."

What We Should Do

My friend suggested some of the things we need to understand about Japan, and what we need to do to win the friendship and support of the Japanese.

"We have not done well at all in speaking to the nations of the Far East. Without realizing it, perhaps, we have repeatedly really frightened some nations. We have been obnoxiously obvious in flaunting our wealth and power.

Secondly, nothing should keep us from stating simply and unashamedly our ideals for freedom, our love of peace, and the delight we take in social changes which really better the lot of people.

We should speak of free nations versus totalitarian, not of Eastern and Western nations. Japan is in the East and we cannot expect her to be loyal to the West. Russia identifies herself as an East-southeastern Pennsylvania it is recommended that winter oats be seeded around the middle of September on well drained soil; the variety should be either Dubois or Conte for being more winter hardy. The rate of seeding two bushels per acre.

TO PLAN FOR WINTER COVER CROPS—A minimum open ground over the winter months should be the aim of every farmer. Without vegetative cover the soil is more subject to soil, water, and wind erosion. Cover crops such as domestic ryegrass, field brome grass, or winter rye may be seeded late August or early September to make good cover crops. Other areas that are normally covered with sod crops or winter grains are pretty well protected. Soil organic matter will be maintained if not improved through the liberal use of cover crops.

TO FLUSH THE EWE FLOCK—The breeding season for many sheep producers is at hand or approaching; if the ewe flock is given some additional grain each day, or turned into real good pasture, during the breeding season so that to get them into a gaining condition, the number of lambs will be increased. This is very important to the producer in order to increase his income from the sale of more lambs. Many good shepherds are getting over 10 lambs per ewe each season. --

We need to make our cultural contacts with Japan and other Eastern nations so that they will overshadow military contacts. Student exchange programs, professor exchange programs, all other cultural exchange programs should be increased.

Recent setbacks in Japan jolt us into realizing that we are not doing nearly as well as we thought, American yet win the ideological battle. It is primarily a question of our will.

Communism says it is willing to fight 50 or 100 years, necessary, to win the minds of men. Do we have stomach for such a battle or do we believe such effort too great? The answer, I believe, determines the outcome of the battle.

Late Summer Canning Notes

By Mrs. Richard C. Spence

Now is the time for canning and making pickles. The secret of having a good can of food when it is opened in the winter is starting with good ingredients at canning time. Just as pickling ingredients is the key to good pickles, processing is the key to good preservation of the pack.

If you plan to make pickles, be sure to use fresh pickled cucumbers. Don't let them stand around for days then decide to use them for pickles.

Sort out the cucumbers for size choosing recipes to suit the size cucumber you have on hand. Be sure to take off the blossom end of the pickle since this is a good spot for spoilage to start. Leave a fourth-inch of the stem on.

Wash the cucumbers carefully using a soft cloth, not a brush. This keeps the skin from being broken. Take out any pickles that float as they are apt to be hollow. Rinse thoroughly so you're sure all garden soil is removed.

You'll need good cider or white vinegar, not homemade since you need a controlled amount of acid. It takes the right mixture of vinegar, sugar, salt and spices to do a good pickling job.

Pure granulated salt is best to use, since it has no filler ingredients but you can use table salt.

Usually you use whole spices for cooked spices and they should be fresh to give best flavor. Usually these are used only in the syrup and not packed in the jar. Granulated sugar is always used unless a recipe says otherwise.

To make pickles you'll need aluminum, enamel, glass or stainless steel pans and spoons. Other substances may cause reactions with the pickling liquids.

Be sure to use an up-to-date recipe that takes into account the acidity of today's vinegar and the kinds of other ingredients we use.

O. My dill pickles were soft last year. What is wrong and how do I prevent this?

A. Soft or slippery pickles are spoiled pickles. This may have happened because the vinegar you used was too weak, the salt brine not strong enough or the pickles were stored in too warm a place.

Start with a reliable recipe buy good quality vinegar and use pure granulated salt for best pickling results.

Some new quick-pickling recipes you might like to try:

DILL PICKLES

4 pounds 4-inch pickling cucumbers
6 tablespoons salt
3 cups distilled white vinegar
3 cups water
¾ to 1 cup dill seed
21 peppercorns

Wash cucumbers thoroughly; cut in half lengthwise. Combine salt, vinegar and water. Heat to boiling. Pack cucumbers into clean hot jars. Add 2 tablespoons dill seed and 3 peppercorns to each jar. Fill with boiling pickling syrup to within ½ inch from top of jar. Immediately adjust covers as jar manufacturer directs. Place jars on wire rack in covered deep kettle. Add enough boiling water to cover top of jars; place over heat process (boil) 10 minutes, counting time from moment active boiling resumes. Remove jars; adjust seal as manufacturer directs. with salt. Add cold water to cover. Let stand at least 12 hours. Drain, rinse, drain. Combine sugar, mustard seed and vinegar; simmer 5 minutes. Meanwhile pack onions into hot, sterilized jars. Place one red pepper and 1 bay leaf in each jar. Pour boiling liquid over onions to within 1 inch from top, making sure vegetables are covered. Quickly seal each jar. Makes three pints.

PEACH PICKLES

Peach pickles will go well with roasts and chops next winter and they're easy to make.

Use firm fresh, unbruised peaches for making pickles. It's best if they are slightly underripe so they'll keep their shape.

You'll need fresh spices and a small bag to hold them for cooking in the syrup. For a small recipe start with about 6 pounds or 3 quarts of peeled peaches.

Make a syrup of 1 pint of vinegar and 3 pounds sugar. Add the spice bag in which you put about 1½ teaspoons ground cloves and 1 small piece ginger root. Add two sticks cinnamon directly to the syrup and bring to a boil.

Drop the peaches into the syrup a few at a time and cook until the fruit is easily pierced. Let stand in the syrup overnight.

Then pack into clean jars covering the fruit with syrup. Seal jars and process in a water bath at simmering for twenty minutes.

Difference between a poor man and a rich man is that one worries about his next meal while the other worries about his last one.

Isn't it odd that the easier a gal is to look at, the harder the fellows stare?

YOUR HEALTH AND CHIROPRACTIC

By
Dr. W. D. Sickman and
Dr. M. W. Szollose

Frequently, patients will ask their Chiropractor a question like the following: "I know, doctor, that I now enjoy better health than ever before in my life, and I think it's wonderful that my headaches and nervousness have disappeared entirely, but I have a friend who suffers with heart trouble, and I am wondering whether Chiropractic could correct that kind of a condition."

The answer, of course, is that Chiropractic is not limited as a health service to any particular type of ailment or kind of sickness. Some of the many ailments and kinds of bodily disease for which Chiropractic has established an impressive record of success in restoring health are:

Adenoids, Appendicitis, Asthma, Bronchitis, Child Ailments, St. Vitus' dance, Colds, Constipation, Diabetes, Eye Troubles, Gall Stomach, Goitre, Hay Fever, Headaches, Heart Trouble, High Blood Pressure, Infantile Paralysis, Kidney Trouble, Liver Trouble, Lumbago, Neuritis, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Skin Eruptions, Spinal Curvatures, Stomach Trouble, Tonsillitis.

Your Chiropractor has received comprehensive and careful instructions in finding and removing nerve pressure, thereby restoring health.

NEW TRACTORS

COMING!

Yes, the rumors are true that John Deere will soon be announcing a new line of tractors. We'll be previewing them at "Deere Day in Dallas" August 30. What's more, we've been told that these new tractors represent an amazing leap forward in power farming—an advance so progressive that it sets an all-new high in tractor performance, ease of handling, and operator comfort. Watch for our announcement date when we return from Dallas. We are looking forward to showing you firsthand what these tractors are going to mean to you in greater production, lower labor costs, and more leisure time.

years ago when the two men decided they could economize on labor if they pooled their machinery and rented more land. They now farm between 375 and 400 acres on nine farms in the Lampeter and Mylin's Corner area.

The partnership between the two farmers does not extend to the livestock. "McI has his dairy and I have my steers and swine program" Book said this week.

His swine program consists of 35 sows at the present time, but he would like to double that this winter. For several years, Book fed out the pigs, but he has sold all the shoats to feeders during the past year because he does not have his swine buildings completed.

Last winter about 70 head of steers were fed out, but that number will probably be somewhat less this year if the sow herd is increased.

The American Farmer degree is awarded to only one FFA member in each 1000 membership in the state year in high school, J. Rob-

Participation in the activities in the FFA and other community organizations are considered by the national examining board along with the farming program of the applicant.

Book, graduated from Lampeter - Strasburg High School in 1957, received the Keystone Farmer degree in 1958. Participation on the state champion Parliamentary Procedure Team and service for one term as Lancaster County FFA Treasurer, helped him earn the highest state award.

From his program of 80 fattening pigs, five gilts and two acres of corn in his first year in high school, J. Robert Book has built a farming enterprise hiring three full time employees and covering almost 400 acres of rich Lancaster County soil. This Future Farmer is an American Farmer of the present.

Introducing NEW PIONEER

Bulky Mix will stretch your grain... fortify it and make it more palatable

WHAT BULKY MIX WILL DO FOR YOUR DAIRY RATION

Bulky Mix is more than something bulky, something sweet, or something cheap. Bulky Mix actually corrects the Vitamin A and mineral deficiencies of grain... and, in addition bulks-up grains over 20% giving the ration a roughage-like texture.

Bulky Mix is economical to feed, too... a relatively low cost source of energy... saves grain... gets the job done efficiently.

HOW TO FEED BULKY MIX

• Bulky Mix can be mixed with Pioneer Concentrate and grain to make a complete ration • Bulky Mix can be fed as a "top-dress" over regular dairy ration.

• Bulky Mix can be fed as a supplement to roughage... over silage or chopped hay.

• Bulky Mix can be fed "straight" as a between-meal treat.

You will be pleased with extra tone and condition Bulky Mix will put on your cows... and the eager-beaver appetite your cows will have throughout their lactation period.

High School has been named chairman of the event.

More than $450.00 in cash premiums and ribbons will be awarded in the three-crop event. Competition in this show is open to all parts of Lancaster County and its neighboring counties.

A $100.00 premium will be awarded to the grand champion hay entry. Hay competition will include classes for alfalfa, clover, timothy, and mixed hays. More than $200 in premium money will be divided between the top winners in the hay competition.

Judge of the show will be Bud Gochaneauer, Quarryville. Charles McCrabb, of Quarryville, will be the announcer, and Elam Buckwalter, Stevens, will be Ring master.

A $50.00 premium will be awarded to the grand champion lath of tobacco. The tobacco competition will include three classes: Best lath of five wrapper stalks, best lath of five filler stalks, and best lath of five green stalks. More than $100 will be divided between the top winners in the tobacco classes.

The corn show will include three classes: The first class, best single ear of Hybrid Dent or Open Pollinated Dent, will have a $5.00 cash prize on the top ear. The second class, best ten ears of Hybrid Dent or Open Pollinated Dent corn, will have a $25 premium on the top ear. The last class for corn, best thirty ears, will have a $15 top prize. More than $100.00 will be given in the corn classes.

No entry fee will be charged for any class and all exhibits shown must have been grown by the exhibitor in Lancaster County or a surrounding county. Judging will begin on Wednesday, Sept. 28 at 8 o'clock a.m.

RUST HARD ON MACHINES

Farm machines can rust out quicker when neglected than they wear out under normal usage and with good care. A rust preventive on frictioning parts when machines are not in use pays dividends later in longer life expectancy of the machines, reminds Burton S. Horne, Penn State extension agricultural engineer.

Market Egg Producers—

EFFICIENCY PAYS

DO YOU KNOW THAT:—

- A 12½% improvement in feed required per dozen eggs equals a saving of $9.00 per ton?
- That our Early Bird #26 All Mash Laying feed will definitely produce Better Shell Quality over the laying year?
- That each ½% improvement in breakage can improve your income by $36.00 per 1,000 hens housed?
- That Lighter Colored Uniform eggs traditionally command a Better Price. A price improvement thru better grade of ½ cent per dozen amounts to approximately $100.00 per 1,000 hens housed?
- That it's not the START, it's the FINISH that counts. If your feeding program gives you 1% better hen house liveability and ½ dozen more eggs per hen housed, it can mean as much as $200.00 extra return per 1,000 hens?
- That GOOD records pay big dividends? Without accurate records you CAN NOT fairly judge the value of your program?

— NOTE —

A combination of all the savings suggested in this ad will lower your production costs as much as from 3 to 4 cents per dozen eggs produced.

It can be done on the right program!

Try Early Bird.
